These Cookies do not store any personally identifiable information.

Performance Cookies

These Cookies allow us to count visits and traffic sources so we can measure and improve the performance of our Sites. They help us to know which pages are the most and least popular and see how visitors move around the Site. If you do not allow these Cookies, we will not know when you have visited our Site and will not be able to monitor its performance.

We use Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. Google Analytics uses Cookies or other tracking technologies to help us analyze how users interact with the Site and Services, compile reports on their activity, and provide other services related to their activity and usage. The technologies used by Google may collect information such as your IP address, time of visit, whether you are a returning visitor, and any referring website. The information generated by Google Analytics will be transmitted to and stored by Google and will be subject to Google’s privacy policies. To learn more about Google’s partner services and to learn how to opt-out of tracking of analytics by Google, click here.

We use Microsoft Clarity and Microsoft Advertising technologies, including Bing, to analyze user behavior on our Site and evaluate the effectiveness of our marketing activities. Microsoft may collect personal information from individuals visiting our Site. Microsoft's privacy policy is available here. We may use Cookies and similar technologies third-party vendors provide to collect information on user behavior (e.g., screens and pages visited, buttons and links clicked, limited information entered, and user taps and mouse movements). This information enables us to monitor and improve the user experience.

Functional Cookies

These Cookies enable the website to provide enhanced functionality and personalization. They may be set by us or by third-party providers whose services we have added to our pages. If you do not allow these Cookies, then some or all of the Services may not function properly.
